FAIRMOUNT AND BRIDGE DAMAGE

Two Commissions Hearing Evidence in Matters Affecting Municipality.

Two commissions appointed by the Hustings Court, at the request of the city of Richmond, were in session at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. The commission appointed to fix the value on the old Mayo's Bridge and a strip of land ninety feet wide across Mayo's Island was in session for some time and heard a number of witnesses. Witnesses differed as to the value of the present piers, for which, it would seem from the instruction, the city will have to pay, although it has no intention of using them, plans having already been invited for a reinforced concrete structure, the arches resting on concrete piers of a heavier type and of greater width.

To Fix Damages. The commission appointed to fix the damages, if any, to be paid property owners in Fairmount by reason of the changes in grade of streets was also in session for some time. The town of Fairmount grew up mushroom like, over the hills just outside of the city limits, and on its incorporation as a township, streets were run here and there according to existing grades. When Fairmount was annexed in 1906 the survey of the annexed territory, conducted under the direction of Colonel Cutshaw, laid out a scheme of grades for the streets to provide proper drainage, and during the past year much of the work has been done. In some instances houses were left high and dry on an embankment, while in others the street has been filled in, leaving the houses below the street grade. There were so many claimants for damages that the Council decided to refer the matter to the arbitration of a court commission, to fix the amounts the city is to pay in each instance, less the increase in the value of the property caused by reason of the improvements the city is making in the grading of the streets, the construction of sewers and gas and water mains.

Both of these commissions will have further hearings before making their report to the Hustings Court. City Attorney Pollard is representing the city in the bridge negotiations, and Assistant City Attorney Anderson in the Fairmount matter.

Henrico Marriage License. A marriage license was issued in the clerk's office of Henrico county yesterday to John I. Mercer, Jr., of this city, and Miss Mary E. Korbrough, residing in the county.

MRS. BLAND MADE MATRON OF HOME

Defeats Miss Johnson After Mr. Umlauf Objects to Nomination of Latter.

WON ON SECOND BALLOT

Clay Ward Councilman Tells Why Miss Bagby Declined to Accept Position.

Mrs. M. Virginia Bland was elected matron of the City Home by the Council Committee on Relief of the Poor last night. The other names put in nomination were Mrs. Mary Harrison Ellington, Miss Mary C. Pollard, Miss S. L. Taylor and Miss Alice Johnson. Mr. Umlauf protested vehemently against the nomination of Miss Johnson by Chairman Hobson. She has been the acting matron since the recent marriage of her sister, Mrs. MacDougall, now Mrs. C. Lee Moore, and, according to Mr. Umlauf, it was through her efforts that Miss Bagby, recently elected to the position, was led into declining it. Mr. Umlauf stated that he had been told that Miss Johnson took the receipts and papers of the former matron to Miss Bagby, then a nurse in the hospital connected with the institution, and endeavored to show her that the matron lost heavily through the operation of a boarding table for internes and officers, on a basis of $15 per month each.

Tells Why She Declined. When Miss Bagby was informed of her selection she notified the committee that she had been told by Miss Johnson that she would be required to run the boarding table at a loss of $15 a month. Miss Johnson apparently having omitted to mention that her sister, Mrs. MacDougall, had boarded herself and four children out of the proceeds she obtained from boarding the officers of the institution. The committee has since instructed the steward to maintain a table for physicians and officers at the cost of the city, charging all who attend $15 a month each.

The first ballot last night stood: Mrs. Bland, 4; Miss Pollard, 2; Miss Johnson, 3. On the second ballot Mrs. Bland received six votes and Miss Johnson three, and it was made unanimous. She is highly indorsed by Messrs. Atkinson and Edgar, members of the committee, and a warm canvass was made in her behalf by City Sergeant John L. Satterfield.

Complain About Land. The National Packing Company was notified for a second time to appear before the committee and explain why it was not living up to its contract for its supply of land to the institution, and pending a settlement the superintendent was instructed to purchase land in the open market and charge the excess cost, if any, against the contracting firm, all claims of the National Packing Company being held up meanwhile, pending an adjustment of the difficulty. Bids were invited for the construction of a fence in the rear of the Colored Home building.

ALDERMEN MEET TO-NIGHT

Contracts for Many Sewers Await Final Approval.

The Board of Aldermen will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in adjourned session. An enormous volume of routine matters will come over from the Common Council for concurrence, including the award of contracts for the main branch of the Dooley sewer, and approval of plans and authorization for calling for bids on a large number of other sewers. Other municipal improvements of an important character will be taken up, including the upper branch of the Dooley sewer, for signature as soon as the Board has acted.

Building Permits. Building and repair permits were issued yesterday as follows: George W. Chiles, to erect a two-story brick store and dwelling on the south side of Main Street, between Rowland and Sycamore Streets, to cost $3,200. Thomas Moore, to repair a brick store, 109 East Broad Street, to cost $1,600. Mollie R. Cephas, to repair a frame dwelling, 1302 East Marshall Street, to cost $125. H. R. Williams, to repair a frame dwelling, 82 North Thirty-first Street, to cost $250.

MOYER ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY

Execution of Sentence Stayed so That Lawyers May Ask Governor for Commutation.

W. B. Moyer, indicted for grand larceny, on the advice of counsel, pleaded guilty in the Hustings Court yesterday, and threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, but in view of the fact that his attorneys are trying to induce Governor Mann to commute the sentence to a jail term and on the attorneys' motion, Judge Witt suspended execution of sentence for thirty days, and Moyer was remanded to jail to await the outcome of the efforts of his lawyers.

The specific offense with which Moyer is charged is stealing funds from the Federal Cigar Company, by which he was formerly employed. Previous good character was pleaded in the young man's behalf, and an extravagant living is said to have caused his downfall.

James W. Bates, indicted for malicious wounding, pleaded not guilty, and was sentenced to six months on the roads for assault and battery. Joseph Taylor, indicted for highway robbery, was acquitted. Curtis Gray, indicted for forgery, was found guilty, and was sentenced to five years on the roads, and was remanded from a four months' jail sentence in Police Court on a charge of petit larceny, was acquitted.

Judge Wells Named. Governor Mann, yesterday, commissioned Judge Ernest H. Wells to sit certain papers in vacation for Judge John E. Mason, of the Circuit Court of Spotsylvania and Stafford counties. The Governor also issued a commission yesterday to Colonel W. Gordon McCabe, a member of the Gettysburg Monument Commission.

NUNNALLY FIRED BY POLICE BOARD

Southside Officer Dismissed for Reporting Sick and Not Seeing Physician.

W. A. MOORE SUCCEEDS HIM

Evidence Brought Up to Show That Nunnally Was About While Not Working.

J. V. Nunnally, of South Richmond, elected to the police force soon after annexation went into effect, was dismissed from the service by the Board of Police Commissioners last night, and W. A. Moore, who served as special policeman during the fair, elected in his place.

The charges against Nunnally were that he reported sick on October 12, but failed to comply with the requirements of the department. In the evidence brought before the commission, it was shown that the officer, though he had reported sick, did not ask for medical attention, and was several times seen on the street when he was supposed to be on duty under orders of the department physician.

Must Report Off Duty. The regulations are that in case of sickness an officer must report off duty and then consult the physician. He must then remain at home until the doctor pronounces him recovered, when he must report for duty.

Mr. Nunnally appeared before the commission and admitted that he walked around the streets after reporting sick. He said that he did not go to the doctor because he thought he could take care of himself. The commission was of the opinion that every officer should be strict in his adherence to the rules of the department, so it was thought best that Mr. Nunnally be removed from the force.

Mr. Moore comes highly recommended to the department, and it is expected will make an excellent officer.

HURT IN TAXICAB CRASH

Baltimore Woman Sent to Hospital for Minor Treatment.

When a taxicab containing six women collided with a tree near the corner of Fourth and Grace Streets yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Joseph Morton, of Baltimore, was thrown from the machine and sustained a severe cut in her forehead. The other occupants of the car were unhurt. Mrs. Morton was rushed to the Memorial Hospital, where several hours were taken in the wound and she was carried back to her room at the Jefferson Hotel. Mrs. Morton's husband is a prominent member of the city's business community.

One of the occupants of the car said that the accident was due entirely to the negligence of the chauffeur, that he had a car himself and knew how it should be driven.

EXPERT CARVING

Lawrence Pitt Seriously Stabbed by Woman Who Ran Away.

Emma Foster, colored, was arrested last night on the charge of seriously cutting Lawrence Pitt. When Pitt was brought to the First Police Station he was bleeding profusely from a wound in his wrist and another in his shoulder, which may have penetrated his lung. He was taken to the City Home for treatment.

According to the story, Pitt was standing on the corner near his home, 217 South Seventeenth Street, when the woman came up behind and began to carve him. On the arrival of Police Officer Satterfield, the knife was thrown away and ran. After a chase of two blocks she was captured and locked up.

GAVE WRONG MEDICINE

Baby Saved by Heroic Treatment on Part of Dr. Tume.

The city ambulance was called yesterday afternoon to attend a three-month-old child, living at 907 North Seventeenth Street, whose mother by mistake had given her petroselin oil, which she thought she was administering Castoria. The mistake was discovered in a few moments, and when Dr. Tume, of 208 Richmond Street, broke his leg while working in the establishment of W. O. Burton, Sutner was carried to his home after the broken limb was set.

HEALTH BOARD ELECTS HUDSON

Named as Medical Inspector to Succeed Dr. Foster, Who Has Resigned.

Medical Inspector W. Brownley Foster presented his resignation to the Board of Health last night to take effect November 1. Dr. Foster expects to accept the position as Chief Health Officer of the city of Roanoke, to which he was recently elected.

After accepting the resignation with expressions of regret, the board went into an election, and named Dr. C. C. Hudson, now an interne at the Retreat for the Sick, as Medical Inspector, to take office from the date of Dr. Foster's retirement. Dr. Hudson is a graduate of the University College of Medicine, and was highly recommended by members of the board and others, there having been three other applicants. He is represented as a young man of much experience in the special lines which will compose his duties as Medical Inspector.

The position pays $1,500 a year, and a resolution is now pending to increase it to $2,000. In the debate on the increase it has been represented that because of the comparatively small salary, Richmond has been educating health experts for other places. When the local health board was reorganized some years ago, Dr. Allan W. Freeman was elected Medical Inspector, a position which he resigned to go with the State Board of Health two years ago. He was succeeded by Dr. Foster, who now assumed the direction of the newly organized health department of the city of Roanoke.

NO FREE VIADUCT ON BROAD STREET

Railway Company Now Proposes to Change Routing of Cars to East End.

AFRAID OF HEAVY CLIMB

Mr. Lynch Refers to Inactivity of Council When First Bona Fide Offer Was Made.

That the inaction of the old Committee on Streets has lost the city of Richmond a free viaduct over Broad Street to Church Hill was brought out by Mr. Lynch at a meeting of the Council Committee on Streets last night when the Virginia Railway and Power Company applied for permission to change the routing of its Broad and Main Street cars to save the heavy grade up Church Hill on Broad Street.

More than a year ago the company, then owning all the lines in Richmond, but operating under several conflicting franchises, offered to the Council to surrender all of the rights it held in return for a new blanket franchise for all the lines, and included in the proposition was a general scheme for a rearrangement of trackage throughout the city and the erection of a viaduct over Broad Street, which should be free to all citizens for vehicle and pedestrian traffic, but to be used by the street railway company for its cars. The matter went to a subcommittee of the Committee on Streets, several hearings had, and when the old Council died on the 31st of the whole proposition died in a pigeon hole. It has been reintroduced.

New Company Got Franchise. Meanwhile the Richmond and Henric Railway Company, which had a franchise for eight years, lying dormant, came into sudden activity and began the erection of a viaduct to Church Hill by way of Marshall Street, which it has already completed, and on which it has authority from the Council to charge "reasonable" tolls, both for vehicles and pedestrians.

After the new Committee on Streets was organized the Virginia Railway and Power Company proposed an extension of tracks from the West End to split the great fan-shaped section and give car service to a large residential area, offering to use any one of three or four streets suggested, preferably Hanover and Stuart Avenue. Promptly the Richmond and Henric Railway Company, owner of the new viaduct and of certain franchises not yet in use, came forward with a request for a franchise to run out Broad Street to Meadow, thence across Monument Avenue, at grade, to Hanover Street, and by a loop to serve much of the same territory. Both propositions were referred by the Committee on Streets to a subcommittee of seven which has never met.

Captain A. B. Guigon, general counsel for the Virginia Railway and Power Company, appeared before the Street Committee last night and asked permission to erect ornamental lighting standards in front of the company's offices at Main and Seventh Streets, which was granted. He also asked permission to change the routing of the Broad and Main Street cars, line east bound, from Eighteenth and Main Streets by carrying the cars on down Main Street to Twenty-first, thence on existing tracks to Twenty-first and Marshall Streets, up Marshall to Twenty-fourth, thence to Broad, all on existing tracks of the City Street line, and then on out Broad to the terminal. Westbound he proposed the cars should continue to come on down Broad Street to Eighteenth as at present, and change is merely of route, and will relieve congestion on Eighteenth Street and the steep grade on Broad, regarded as more or less dangerous, but up which the Broad and Twenty-fifth Street cars will continue to come, as at present.

Captain Guigon said that at present cars had to wait at the bottom of the hill until the one in front had made the climb, to save danger of accident. Mr. Lynch wanted a special committee appointed to look into the matter, and seemed disposed to refuse to grant concessions until the company had renewed its proposal of a free viaduct, but after much debate the whole matter was referred to the Jefferson Ward delegation and the City Engineer. The delegation consists of Messrs. Lynch and Chairman Adams.

TRUSTED DRIVER HELD FOR THEFT

Charge Is That He Took Firm's Furniture and Sold It at Cut Rates.

After a good deal of sleuthing, Detectives W. J. Duffy last night arrested William Harris (colored), the trusted driver of the Hopkins Furniture Company, on the charge of stealing the goods of his employer and selling them to others and collecting the money. Harris was bailed and employed Attorney H. M. Smith, Jr., to defend him in the Police Court.

The negro has been driving for the Hopkins Furniture Company for a number of years, and was considered a thoroughly honest man. Recently it was found that there was a leakage, and the matter was reported to the police. The detectives found that Harris had been systematically defrauding his employers. Goods placed in warehouses and allowed for delivery to bona-fide customers were carted off to people with whom Harris had made bargains and sold without knowledge of members of the firm.

Newton Nicholas, 1001 St. John Street, was one of Harris' most recent customers. He told the officers that he had in the last few days bought of the driver $60.70 in furniture. There are others who will testify in the Police Court that they have bought furniture of Harris on one time and another. Harris admitted several of his thefts to Wiley and Duffy.

MERGER OF ROADS NOW APPROVED

Electric Lines Out of Washington Taken Over by Washington-Virginia Company.

The State Corporation Commission yesterday entered an order permitting the merger of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company and the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company as the Washington-Virginia Railway Company. The maximum capital stock of the consolidated corporation is to be $3,000,000, and the minimum $500,000, with a par value in shares of $100 each. The formal merger of the lines had already been anticipated by action taken at stockholders' meetings of the two companies recently. The Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway held a ninety-nine-year lease on the property of the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church line, so that there will be no change in the present control and operation.

Report has had it for some time that these consolidations were the result of control by the Gould interests, both lines, and that eventual connection with the water power rights owned by the Goulds at Fredericksburg, and with the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railway at Aashland was contemplated. The papers filed, however, do not show any such plan, nor have the attorneys for the lines, nor the attorneys for the Washington-Virginia Railway, taken part in the proceedings, which are declared to be entirely in the interests of Washington parties owning the two suburban electric lines, one running to Mount Vernon, the birthplace of Washington, and the other to Arlington, the home of Lee.

Sight-Seeing Automobiles. The State Corporation Commission also issued a charter yesterday to the Chesapeake Motor Car Company (Inc.), authorizing it to operate a general automobile business with a garage and repair shop, to deal in automobiles and supplies, and to operate sight-seeing cars in and around Richmond. The principal office is to be in Richmond, and the incorporators are to be E. F. Nichols, president; William E. Nichols, vice-president; and B. G. Hathaway, secretary and treasurer—all of Richmond. The maximum capital stock is to be $15,000 and the minimum $2,000. The commission issued an amendment to the charter of the C. L. Ritter Lumber Company (Inc.), of Tazewell, Va., increasing its capital stock from $200,000 to $300,000, and increasing its real estate limitations to 30,000 acres.

New Charters. The following new charters were issued: The Fincastle Real Estate Improvement Corporation, Fincastle, Inc., incorporators: W. J. Pogue, president; William McWilson, vice-president; W. M. Page, secretary and treasurer—all of Fincastle. Capital: Maximum, $2,000; minimum, $500. Object: Real estate business. Grundy Drug Company (Inc.), Grundy, Va., incorporators: John W. Flanagan, Jr., president; C. D. Combs, secretary and treasurer; E. E. Smith, William Page—all of Grundy, Va. Capital: Maximum, $2,500; minimum, $1,000. Object: Drug business.

Thinks She's a Dip. On complaint of a colored sign painter, W. H. Burke, Celia Coleman, colored, was arrested last night, and is being held as a suspicious character. Burke claims that the woman came into his place, took a drink, and then proceeded to throw a $5 bill, and had her arrested. She was bailed last night.

FEDERAL CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS

Opinions Handed Down in Three Cases—Term May Adjourn To-Day.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reconvened yesterday at 11 o'clock, with Circuit Judge Pritchard and District Judge Waddill in attendance.

The court announced and handed down its opinion in the following cases: No. 930—E. Brown Shaffer, bankrupt, appellant, vs. the Kobegard Company, appellee; appeal from the District Court at Philadelphia, W. Va. Opinion by Judge Pritchard. Affirmed, with costs. The following cases were restored to the docket for further argument: No. 922—Norwood Paper Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Columbia Paper Bag Company, defendant in error; in error to the Circuit Court at Baltimore, Md. Cause restored to the docket for further argument, to be had at the November term.

No. 953—Ida G. Jackson, appellant, vs. A. B. White, Henry C. Jackson, et al., appellees; appeal from the Circuit Court at Parkersburg, W. Va. Cause restored to the docket for further argument, to be had at the November term.

The court denied the petition of the appellant for a rehearing in the following cases: No. 898—John T. Blossington, appellant, vs. David L. Boyd, Board of Commissioners of Haywood county, N. C., et al.; appeal from the District Court at Asheville, N. C. Petition of appellant for a rehearing denied. The court will likely adjourn to-day for the session. The next meeting will be at the November term, which convenes at Richmond on November 10, for argument of cases.

MRS. SIMMER HAS FIGHTING CHANCE

Husband, Who Shot Her in Mistaking Her for Burglar, Is Bailed on Own Recognizance.

Mrs. M. J. Simmer, who was accidentally shot by her husband shortly after midnight yesterday morning in the lodging house at 1545 East Main Street, an account of which appeared in the city edition of The Times-Dispatch yesterday, has a good chance for recovery, it was stated in the Memorial Hospital last night. Her grief-stricken husband is in constant attendance.

Before she was placed under the influence of chloroform for the operation, Mrs. Simmer fully exonerated her husband, declaring that the shooting was accidental. She had been afraid of burglars ever since they were robbed recently in their home in Chicago. She had gotten up to close the shutters in their room, and was coming back to bed, when her husband, awakened from a sound sleep, discovered her form burglar, fired just as she reached the bed. She fell beside him, screaming. He realized his mistake at once, and was hurrying for aid when other lodgers in the house notified the police. He was arrested by Officers Bernstein and Campbell.

The bullet has been extracted. The wound does not appear so dangerous as it was first believed. Simmer appeared in Police Court yesterday morning to answer to the formal charge of feloniously shooting her wife with intent to kill, and Gilbert K. Pollock, aroused by the man's utter dejection and pitiful condition, voluntarily offered his services as an attorney. Acting Police Justice Wilbur Griggs was so persuaded of the man's innocence of intentional shooting that he bailed him in the sum of $500 on his own recognizance for October 25.

FIGURES NOT CHANGED

July Compilation Does Not Affect Accuracy of April Census.

C. S. Sloan, geographer of the Bureau of the Census, estimates Richmond's population on July 1 at 177,872, a gain of 214 since the officially announced figures of the decennial census, which was taken on a basis of the population of the city on April 15, and which showed a population of 177,658. Chief Health Officer Levy wrote to the Census Bureau for figures on Richmond's population for the latest census, to correct his estimate and to place on file the population of Richmond's population for intercensal data. The information was promptly furnished on the basis of the bureau's estimate of population on July 1 each year, the census of 1900 being given out in April as 85,050, being placed in the following July at 85,148.

The letter of Mr. Sloan in no way affects the official census figures announced by Director E. Dana Durand a year ago, being in no sense a correction, but merely a completion of the increase in two and a half months, the rate showing a normal increase in Richmond's population of about 1,200 per year.

CARRIED CONCEALED WEAPON

Charles Tolman, White, and John Ramsey, Colored, Fined for Carrying a Concealed Weapon.

Charles Tolman, white, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was fined $500 and placed under $100 security for two months in Police Court yesterday morning. John Ramsey, colored, was punished in the same manner for the same offense. The case of Emmett Jackson, colored, charged with shooting Thomas Epps, also colored, was continued until October 25. The shooting is said to have been accidental.

Qualifications in Chancery. Littlejohn D. Bradley qualified yesterday in the Chancery Court as executor of the will of Mrs. Florence E. B. Lambard. The estate is valued at $1,100. Mr. Bradley also qualified as guardian of Little David Bradley and Louise Virginia Bradley.

R. C. Florence qualified as administrator of the estate of James Henry Goddin. The estate is small.

REWARD

Liberal reward offered for the return of information tending to the apprehension of Willie E. Whitehead, an incompetent person who escaped from Moore's Brook Sanatorium, near Charlottesville, Va., Thursday, October 5, 1910, about 10 A. M. Age, about 39 or 40; of slight build, about 5 feet 10 inches or 6 feet in height; hair, light brown; eyes, light bluish gray; with wild lock in them; has about a week's growth of beard on face, no mustache; nose, rather long; head, peculiarly shaped, with long, receding forehead; arms, long, which he swings constantly as he walks, and has a peculiar awkward gait.
